Had a Chaperon Last Time, She Says-Didn't Overwork Her.

Miss Pauline Langdon, corespondent in the divorce suit of Dr. Julia Seton Sears against the Rev. Frank W. Sears, took the witness stand yesterday and explained her relations with Sears. She also tried Miss Langdon at the same time notified the "ministering angels," who have been adding Mrs. Sears, that she and Mr. Sears are going abroad again this fall and that the members of Mrs. Sear's flock may take such steps as they like.

Miss Langdon was questioned concerning the trip last fall about which steamship employees have testified. She said "There was nothing in that trip except the gossip of the 'ministering angels.' They had better get busy again, for we are going abroad again this year and next year. I just know the 'ministering angels' are going to have ever so much worry learning any with us."

Miss Langdon said that she believed she had been an inspiration to Mr. Sears.
"And did he help you too?" asked counsel for Mrs. Sears.
"He did. He saved my life by his science treatment."

"Do you mean to say you don't know what New Thought is and what it stands for?" asked the witness of the court.
"I confess I don't," replied Justice

Glegerich. "Then I'm sorry for you," replied Miss angdon.
Miss Langdon explained that the reason Miss Langdon explained that the reason she changed her stateroom on the steamer to Europe last fall was because she was frightened by a drunken man on the top deck and she thought she would be safer on the deck below. She admitted that Mr. Sears also changed his stateroom. When asked if he was frightened by a drunken man too, she replied: "I don't know."

She said that she engaged a Kreen.

She said that she engaged a French woman to chaperon her on the trip home, but admitted that the chaperon was never in her stateroom when Mr. Sears

Accused Wife Called for 'Percy,' He Says, and Baseball Man Hit.

There was testimony yesterday in the trial of the divorce suit of Frank R. Poss, automobile manufacturer and vice-president of the Detroit Baseball club, as to what occurred late on the night of Feb-uary 23 last, when Poss and a party of his detectives suddenly called at the apart-ment of his wife, Mrs. Lillian K. Poss, in the Clarendon, Eighty-sixth street and Riverside Drive.

that Poss carried an iron bar, but that he dropped the bar when they reached the door of the apartment. The raiders had no difficulty in opening the door, but when they got inside there was no trace of Mrs. Poss, the detective said, although a light was burning in the apartment.

A sound of heavy breathing was heard.

"Frank, my modesty!" my modesty!" exclaimed Mrs. Poss.

"Your modesty be ______!" said Mr. oss, "You haven't any modesty." The witness said that Percy M. Thorn, the corespondent, appeared in the door way of Mrs. Poss's boudoir at this junc-ture and Mrs. Poss cried; "O Percy! O Percy!"

"What did I want with a chaperon while Mr. Sears was with me?" she said.
"He took care of me. We let the chaperon go out and take her air."
